

Board Sets Time Schedule for Bids on New High School

Contracts for 12 Units to be Let Next Year

The Grossmont Union High School Board of Trustees, at its meeting Monday received a report from Assistant Superintendent, Harold G. Hughes, on the time schedule of bids on construction of the new high school in La Mesa.

This schedule provided for 4 units in February; 2 units in the first of February; 2 units in March; 2 units in April, and 2 units in May.

Due to completion of construction will depend upon availability of materials and labor, which are uncertain factors because of international conditions, but have been expressed that the new school might be occupied by January, 1952.

The Board approved the recommendation of District Superintendent Lewis F. Smith, that two schools be organized on the Grossmont campus on a half-day basis until such time as the new school will be ready for use. One school of 1800 will attend in the morning, the other of 1400 in the afternoon. Both schools will provide similar programs for grades 9 through 12.

Tentative attendance territory for the high school in La Mesa is bounded by Jefferson to Mariposa, to Campo Road, to Sweetwater Road. Bus transportation will be provided to Monterey Heights and the Murray Lake areas.

The half day sessions will terminate when the new high school plant is ready for occupancy.

Subject to C. I. F. approval, the new school has been admitted to the San Diego City Schools Athletic League and has been nominated as a participating team in the Frothingham Cup to be held in September.

Many problems and difficulties are anticipated in providing for the two schools on the one campus. It was pointed out by Smith, with careful planning and vigorous action on the building program the educational disadvantages will be held to a minimum.

The two schools will be staffed by a division of the Grossmont faculty plus additional personnel needed because of the increased enrollment.

The board expressed appreciation to the voters for the overwhelming support in the recent election for the building programs of the elementary and secondary schools.

GROWERS DISCUSS AVOCADO RAISING

The kind, amount, or timing of fertilizer applications may affect avocado production, but there is no one fertilizer program known that will assure good production. This conclusion was reached by a group of growers discussing fertilizers at a recent meeting. It was pointed out that there are just too many variables and factors that enter the picture. At the present stage of the avocado game, the experience of the individual grower may determine the most satisfactory program for that particular ranch.

It was Jack Hutchinson, of Encinitas, who mentioned the variation in the behavior of trees themselves. Many trees, particularly in the older orchards, were propagated from poor bearing stock and will always be "boarders," unless replaced or topworked. Sanford Smith, of Solano Beach, stressed the role of soil differences. The very sandy soils seem to need more elements, more frequent applications (possibly because of leaching), than do the loamier soils. Smith urged growers to try different materials and programs on certain trees, maintaining the small-scale experiment for several years. The results are always of interest, even if no differences show up.

Growers who feel they need help on fertilizer matters were advised to contact the Agricultural Extension Service by Roy Magnuson, a grower in Encinitas. He feels that Farm Advisor Joe Conny is familiar with the problems of local soils, and would have suggestions worth considering. Sandy Smith added the old saying that "perhaps the best fertilizer is the grower's own footprints in the orchard."

Hear Talks on School Budgets

The Salary and Evaluation Committee of the Lemon Grove District Teachers' Association were hosts to two representatives of the California Teachers Association on Wednesday evening of last week at a dinner in the school cafeteria.

Dr. Ostlie and Dr. Nelson, authorities on school budget planning and salary schedules, spoke to the assembled guests on the results of recent salary surveys in California, and compared those of this district with others. They, in their counseling of budget work, have encountered one of the best here in Lemon Grove, they reported, and they commended Supt. Netzel on the excellent work which he and the Board of Trustees have done.

Attending the meeting were Harry Griffen, Robert E. Sutton, Harry Butler, Supt. Netzel, Paul Reynolds, and Mmes. Hazel Jensen, Alice M. See, Dorothy Kennedy, Ovella Mason, Grace Burks, Helen Le Masters, Jessie Snell, Evelyn Lauritzen, Hazel Schwalm, Evelyn Whalen and Rita Von Meeden.

San Diego's first Christmas Circus for the children of San Diego, featuring Hopalong Cassidy, will be presented Saturday morning at 10:30 a. m. at Balboa Stadium.

Christmas Circus is a presentation of the San Diego Chamber of Commerce Christmas Center Committee, headed by Fire Chief George E. Courser. Courser said, "Our idea in presenting Christmas Circus and Hopalong Cassidy is to have each child attending bring a toy, old or new, to be his admission. These toys will be turned over to the Salvation Army for distribution to the less fortunate children of San Diego County."

Dr. Alex Zimmerman, chairman of the Christmas Program Committee, announced that in addition to Hopalong Cassidy, Christmas Circus will feature the Bonham Boys' Band, Shrine clowns, a trampoline act, the Hoover High Tumblers and last but not least the Fire Department's Hook and Ladder.

LAYING HENS NEED LIGHT

Hungry hens are not good producers. Laying hens that are forced to roost from sundown to sunrise in winter do not have enough food in their crops to provide nourishment and manufacture eggs too.

Lights in the laying house will lengthen the work day of the hen. However, according to Farm Advisor Robert Adolph, of the University of California Agricultural Extension Service, 13 to 14 hours of light is the maximum amount the birds can use. Leaving the lights on for 24 hours will not mean an additional increase in production.

Adolph says it does not make any difference whether the lights are on in the early morning or at night. Some poultrymen prefer turning on the lights by automatic switch at 3:30 or 4:00 a. m., and turning them off manually after daylight. Then, if the morning is foggy or dark, the lights may remain on as long as necessary. Others prefer turning on the lights themselves at sunset, with an automatic switch to turn them off later in the evening.

Either system will be valuable unless the lights shine on the birds. Adolph says the lights must be arranged to strike the birds both on the roost and on the floor. He recommends one foot-candle power of light for chickens and two foot-candle power of light for turkeys.

School Survey to Determine Federal Aid

This week the school children in the Lemon Grove School District will be given cards in the form of Questionnaires, which their parents are asked to fill out completely and return to school officials promptly. A survey of results will determine whether Lemon Grove is entitled to Federal funds, which, under public law 874, passed by the 81st Congress, grants financial aid to those districts burdened by reason that schools provide education for children whose parents are employed on Federal property. The Federal government recognizes a responsibility for the impact that certain of its activities have on educational agencies in certain communities.

Because there has been a great increase in school enrollment in Lemon Grove on account of defense and war activities since 1939, the Lemon Grove District may be entitled to federal funds to help in the maintenance and operation of schools. For accounting purposes, it is necessary for the school to have one card signed by a parent or guardian for each child in school. All are urged to cooperate in every way, in order to expedite the survey.

Mrs. Hazel Schwalm, club president, greeted all members and guests, and presented Paul Cheatham, who was in charge of the evening's program of entertainment. Mrs. Elda Bengtson and Mrs. Krimsky each sang Christmas solos, accompanied by Mrs. Lewis Smith. Gifts were presented to the district administrators.

Mrs. Hazel Jensen, chairman of the social committee, was assisted in planning the Christmas event by her committee members, Mrs. Dorothy Roberts, Fabian Egan and Paul Cheatham. Miss Elizabeth Robbins and Mrs. Margaret L. Darroch assisted Mrs. Egan with all decorations.

EUROPEANS OBSERVE CALIFORNIA AGRICULTURE

Four European agriculturists, traveling under the auspices of the Economic Cooperation Administration, are visiting in California this week to see how our agricultural advisory services work. They are: Adolphe Mahov, chief engineer in the French Ministry of Agriculture; Arthur Wannop, technical development officer for the Department of Agriculture for Scotland; Jeanpierre Lanners, professor of agriculture for the Luxembourg government; and Virgilio Augusto Dantas, chief for technical assistance services for the Portuguese Ministry of Economy.

These four men are members of a group of 18 European agriculturists who recently made a survey of the agricultural advisory services in the European countries. Their visit is the result of a group recommendation that a similar survey be made in the United States with the idea of establishing a comparable advisory system. Their primary object is to see first hand how the Agricultural Extension Service translates the results of scientific research into practical things farm families can do. Under the Marshall Plan, a group of American agriculturists will help them on their return to Europe with an extension service which would be adaptable to European conditions.

Gerald Vinci Concert Soloist

Gerald Vinci, gifted and handsome 22 year old concertmaster of the San Diego Philharmonic Orchestra, will be soloist on the Orchestra's second subscription concert next Tuesday evening, at 8:30 in the Ross Auditorium.

With the Philharmonic under the direction of Dr. Leslie Hodge, Vinci will make his San Diego solo debut in the Mendelssohn Violin Concerto in E minor, one of the greatest and most popular concerti for that instrument.

Major orchestral work programmed by Dr. Hodge for the December 19 concert is Sibelius' Symphony No. 2 in D major (sub-titled the "Epic"); and the concert will open with Wagner's Overture to "Die Meistersinger". Vinci, who replaces pianist Claudio Arrau as soloist on the second subscription concert, made his first public appearance at the age of five, and at the age of 11 made his solo debut with the New York Civic Symphony in the same Mendelssohn Concerto that he will play a week from Tuesday night. He followed this with several guest appearances on outstanding radio programs, and, the same season, was twice soloist with "Les Concerts Symphoniques" of Montreal under the baton of Wilfrid Pelletier. Except for a hitch in the Navy, Vinci has been a resident of California since 1940, and in the 1946-47 season won the violin competition of the University of California at Los Angeles. His fame in and about Los Angeles brought him to the attention of Dr. Hodge, who persuaded him to forsake his highly remunerative work in the Hollywood motion picture studios to accept the position of concertmaster with the San Diego Philharmonic.

Seats for the second subscription concert on December 19 are now on sale at Southern California Music Co., 830 "C" street, San Diego, and at the Valley Music Store, El Cajon.

Because of conflicts with events in the community Christmas celebration, the "pop" concert of December 16 has been cancelled, and the subscription concert of December 26 has been postponed to a later date. Tickets may be purchased at Snyder's Radio Shop in the Grove Theatre building.

Adventists to Enlarge the Church Here

Plans have been accepted by the local Seventh-Day Adventist Church for a building program to start early in March.

An addition will be built onto the west end of the church building, adding 1200 square feet and providing a Dorcas room, pastor's study, a baptistry, another Sabbath School room and new rest rooms.

The sanctuary will be enlarged by the removal of a partition bringing the seating capacity to about 275.

Capacity crowds are in attendance at worship services and recently extra seats in the choir space have had to be used for attendants as well as chairs added in available space.

Since September 1 the Sabbath School attendance has been increased from 130 to 185.

The pastor, Rev. Charles Betz, stated yesterday that E. D. Deek, secretary of the General Conference at Washington, D. C., has sent a call to all churches and pastors for special days of world wide prayer for peace and that "God will hold back the winds of strife so that the Gospel may be spread to insure everlasting peace."

The building plans were presented to the congregation by Rev. Betz last Saturday night following a fellowship supper held in the Forward clubhouse with nearly 200 present.

The affair was planned by the recreation committee under the leadership of Leslie Miles with the Dorcas Society in charge of serving.

A program of music was given by Prof. Victor Johnson, violin; Dr. George Brassington, cello; and Mrs. Brassington at the piano.

Vivian Henderson of Radio and TV sang two solos and Mrs. June Sinclair read "The Shepherd Boy's Gift."

Smile Awhile

Tragedy
An American in London, who was badgered by the English on almost every topic, at last determined to go on the Mississippi steamboat style, and brag about everything. His first chance occurred at an exhibition of paintings, where a picture of a snowstorm attracted general admiration.

"Is not that fine?" asked a Britisher. "Could you show anything as natural as that in America?" "Pooh!" answered the American. "That is no comparison to a snowstorm picture painted by a cousin of mine a few years since. That painting was so natural, sir, that a mother, who unhesitatingly left her babe sleeping in a cradle near it, on returning to the room found her child frozen to death!"

Small Contribution
"I have made a will leaving my brains to the hospital and just got an acknowledgment from the authorities."

"Were they pleased?"
"They wrote that ever little thing helps."

No Petting
The sweet young thing entered the office of the fashionable dog kennels and tripped up to the handsome young man at the desk. "I want a pet," she cooed. "I'd love to," but the boss is awfully strict."

DREW PEARSON

Bouquet for Vaughan

SOME PEOPLE will hardly believe it, but herewith is a bouquet to my old deep-freeze pal, Gen. Harry Vaughan.

Ever since the Korean war, 10,000 servicemen have been wandering the streets of Washington with no place to go and none of the hospitality shown them during World War II. For the nation's capital—like a lot of other cities—hasn't realized that with the cold war now warm, we civilians ought to shift our hospitality from cold to warm.

An exception in General Vaughan, who has been quietly raising Cain with the treasury and Jess Larson, chief of the general services of supply, in order to pry loose the old Belasco theatre for the use of the American Legion and other veterans' groups in entertaining servicemen.

The Belasco theatre enjoys one of the most central locations in Washington. Diagonally across Lafayette square from the White House, it is adjacent to the old Dolly Madison house where the wife of the fourth president of the United States entertained in the early days of the republic. But because legitimate theatres have long been closed in the nation's capital, the Belasco—believe it or not—is filled with old government files and canceled checks.

And the treasury department, whose files are chiefly concerned, won't release the theatre to the veterans for entertainment purposes.

More Red Tape

First stumbling block was a treasury claim that it would cost $20,000 to transport the files to another building. Whereupon Maj. Gen. T. W. Herren, army commander in the District of Columbia, offered to transport the files in army trucks, free.

Then the treasury came up with a new argument—that it would cost the government $75,000 to find other storage space for the files. Furthermore, the treasury wants an armed guard to be placed over its canceled checks and its more convenient to keep a guard over them in the Belasco theatre.

But what Secretary of the Treasury John Snyder doesn't seem to realize is that $75,000 a year is chickenfeed compared to the morale and morals of 10,000 young Americans who don't want to be away from home, but who in serving their country have to be away from home, and need some place to relax evenings.

General Vaughan, recognizing this problem, has done his best to cut red tape. But so far his friends John Maragon and Joe Major seem to have been more successful with Jess Larson regarding surplus property in the past than the general is now regarding hospitality for servicemen.

Protecting the President

The folks back in Independence, Mo., still are talking about the strict security precautions taken by the secret service during the President's recent visit to his home town. It wasn't at all like other visits, when Mr. Truman casually walked around the main streets, waving to neighbors and chatting with old friends.

Milton Morris, a deliveryman for the Independence Ice and Creamery Co., is one who knows how different Harry's visit was this time. For when Morris wheeled his ice truck into the parking lot at the Reorganized Latter Day Saint auditorium where Truman was being entertained at lunch, he was met by two secret service agents. And a new method of delivery was set for the ice man that day.

Morris was told to leave his pocket knife, his ice pick, and his ice lugs in the truck. He was required to carry the 50-pound chunk of ice to the door of the building in his arms. There the ice was washed—twice—and then handed to a worker inside the building.

Down at Kelsey's restaurant on Truman road, the route usually taken from the Muehlebach hotel to Independence, a few of the townspeople waited patiently for the President's caravan to pass. But his limousine, followed by seven secret service agents riding in an open car, whizzed by a bit in excess of the Independence 25-mile-an-hour speed limit, and few saw Truman.

Ellen, a waitress, looking out at the seven agents in the open car, remarked: "Those guys looked darn cold."

Phone Strike

The senate labor-management subcommittee is rushing a report on labor and strike conditions in the Bell Telephone system.

(Ed. Note—The strike was settled after eleven days with the signing of a fifteen-month contract.) The report will show that while American Telephone and Telegraph, the mother company, actually dictates labor policy for the entire system, the labor union is forced to deal independently with the local companies, and that chaos exists.

GRASSROOTS

Election Indications

THE VOTING in the election of Nov. 7 should provide some valuable lessons for the leaders of both major political parties.

That in Ohio should demonstrate conclusively that the bosses of organized labor can not deliver the labor vote. The workers vote as citizens, not as members of a labor union. The labor bosses, largely self-appointed, have exerted much influence upon both parties, because of their claim of ability to deliver the labor vote. That their influence on legislation and party policies were obtained under false pretenses was definitely decided in that Ohio contest for United States senator.

The labor bosses put everything they had, both in money and effort, into defeating Senator Taft, but he won over the bosses' self-picked candidate by nearly half a million votes. They gave fair warning of their intention two years ago. It was because of their promise to deliver the labor vote that President Truman made the repeal of the Taft-Hartley law a major campaign issue. Now we have heard the last of such repeal as a political issue, and it should have weakened the influence of the labor bosses as presidential advisers.

As for the Republicans, they need no longer fear the opposition of the labor bosses. Senator Taft has proven that their threats are meaningless when they oppose that which is best for the nation as a whole. Labor refused to follow John Lewis into the Wilkie camp, and now the organized workers have refused to follow both the A.F. of L. and the C.I.O. into the Truman camp. The workers vote for national interest as a whole, not for a minority interest.

The result in Ohio should prove a valuable lesson for both parties. They should know now that the vote-controlling influence of the labor bosses is a myth, that it has no foundation in fact.

Socialistic government planning, the Fair Deal program, was largely by an issue in the southern and some of the northern states including Illinois. The people quite definitely told the President they were not favorable to his Fair Deal, so-called, and that program is now a dead duck as a political issue. We should be on our way back to our American way, with radicalism a thing of the past. There will be no extra session of congress for the purpose of passing Fair Deal legislation.

Another lesson the election of Nov. 7 should have taught the political leaders is that the people will not countenance any temporizing with Communism. That was demonstrated in Maryland, California, Wisconsin, Iowa and some other states. It should have given the President fair warning that his secretary of state represents a political burden for his administration, and it insures more of the Senator McCarthy charges, and probably another senate investigation of Communism in that department. It is doubtful if Mrs. Douglas, with the voting record in congress favorable to the Communists, could be elected to the office of dog catcher in California.

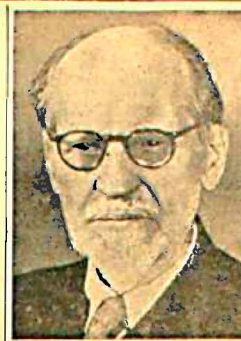

The decisive defeat, by a two to one vote, a majority for Warren of more than a million, in a state where the registration is heavily Democratic, proved nothing more than that California voters are averse to radical legislation, and that the Roosevelt name is a vote getter. Son James will not sell insurance from the governor's mansion in Sacramento, as he did, for a time, from the White House in Washington. It probably means the elimination of Roosevelt from Democratic politics in California.

Such, as I see it, are some of the lessons involved in that election of Nov. 7. It did not result in the election of a Republican congress, but it insured a continuance of the coalition of the Republicans and southern Democrats. That insures defeat for whatever is left of the Fair Deal program. While the Republicans polled better than 52 per cent of the votes to 45 per cent for the Democrats, the vote was not so distributed as to give the Republicans a majority in either the house or senate, but it did greatly strengthen the coalition that insures the rejection of all radical legislation.

On the basis of that result the Republicans should now be able to draft a program for the 1952 contest.

Should Secretary of State Acheson wish to render the greatest possible political aid to his chief, President Truman, he will tender his emphatic resignation. The President will not call for it, but it undoubtedly would be accepted if tendered. With so much Communist smoke, the people have lost confidence in the state department. A resignation would materially aid the administration.

Western Revolt

THE WEST COAST is on the edge of revolt, unless big-league baseball does something about its status. There are more sides to this argument than an octopus has fingernails. The west coast thinks it should be the third big league.

One argument is that Los Angeles is bigger than three cities now enjoying this so-called honor. San Francisco is no minor-league town. But neither is Baltimore or Buffalo or Houston or other cities now railed in the minor-league row.

After all, there is only one Los Angeles and one San Francisco on the coast. Another barrier is the size of most west coast ball parks. Most of them seat from 10,000 to 25,000. And no one can build any 35,000 or 45,000 or even 1,000-seat ball parks now.

Grantland Rice The west coast has some deserved squawk. They build up one young, popular star and the big leagues either make them sell said star or else they draft him. This is not so pleasant for the west coast fan. It isn't so pleasant for the American Association or the International League or other strong leagues either. But no one has worked out a substitute.

It isn't any too pleasant for Montreal to have three or four popular stars hauled back to Brooklyn in mid-season. The main wonder is that with the draft, plus television, there is any minor-league baseball left. One answer is that it is crumbling rapidly and there will soon be little remaining.

Certainly Los Angeles and San Francisco are far above many big league cities in population and sport interest. How many big-league cities could draw 105,000 to a football game or 85,000 to a race track on a single day? On New Year's Day, the Rose Bowl will play to 97,000 and Santa Anita will entertain 60,000 or more.

But the problem of a third major league is a heavy one. The problem of the draft is a heavy one. But if a young star was never sold or drafted, he would never reach the big league.

Same Old Problem

Television offers the same tangle on the Pacific coast that it offers everywhere else.

It cost west coast college teams from 10,000 to 20,000 a game in the matter of attendance. Only the top affairs had the old-time crowds.

Television cut heavily in Pacific coast baseball. No one knows what the future has to offer. All they know is that today television is a wrecking institution for the smaller people in sport.

It is crushing out their lives. Minor leagues and minor football games are being wiped out.

Army has played to capacity—plus television this year. Down in Texas, S.M.U. and the Longhorns have filled the stadiums with television thrown in. Notre Dame crowds have held up despite television and a poor season. Michigan had its games televised last year and played to capacity—543,363 for six home games. This year without television (it is banned in the Big Nine) the Wolverines total was but 508,000 for the same number of games at home. All of which proves nothing from a television standpoint for the ticket sales declined because of Michigan's disappointing showing. Figuring an 80,000 crowd this week-end at Ohio State, the Wolverine total will reach 715,000 spectators for nine games.

But these are only a few from the vast mass. Why pay out good money (pretty good, anyway) for a smaller show, when they bring you a much bigger show for nothing?

It might be said here that baseball will have its troubles at the winter meeting and there can be no answer that will please everybody.

Football also has its television problems. This new instrument has suddenly stirred up more trouble than Noah's flood once brought to the world. Everyday an endless number of new sets are being sold, which only adds to the numbers of the stay-at-homes without any charge.

These "free spectators" don't help the sport financially.

Case of Joe DiMaggio

Ty Cobb came from Royston, Georgia; Babe Ruth from Baltimore; Tris Speaker and Rogers Hornsby from the overwhelming state of Texas.

Here are four of baseball's greats. But Joe and Dom DiMaggio report from San Francisco, and San Francisco takes as much pride in these two stars—especially Joe—as any city could feel about a ballplayer. In San Francisco they move Joe up with Cobb and Ruth.

Vegetarians
The dinosaur might be called the "father of the vegetarians." Despite his great size, sometimes more than 40 tons, the monster fed only upon the tender leaves and foliage of tree tops.

Clarence L. McKinsey, 727 South Lodiway Street, Dayton, Ohio, who is night supervisor of hospital attendants at the Ohio State Hospital in Dayton, says a man has trouble getting used to working nights and sleeping days. And if a man isn't getting the proper rest it not only makes him groggy on the job, but also makes him feel poorly the rest of the time. This will never happen to him again, says Mr. McKinsey, now that he is taking HADACOL. His system lacked those necessary vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron, and Niacin, which HADACOL contains.

Here is Mr. McKinsey's own statement:

"Before I started taking HADACOL I had a great deal of trouble with a nervous stomach. I had an awful hard time sleeping—I would just roll and toss all night. It affected me during my working hours, too—I was restless and nervous all the time. My nerves were so jumpy that the least little thing would put me on edge. I was just beside myself in knowing what to do. Then I heard how other folks that were nervous and rundown were being helped by HADACOL. I decided to try HADACOL. Now, after 10 bottles of HADACOL, I feel fine; in fact, I think so much of HADACOL I would walk 5 miles for a bottle of HADACOL—I'm not exaggerating. Why the way I sleep and the appetite I have are marvelous. The best thing is that my nerves are calm as they can be. I just can't praise HADACOL enough."

Thousands Have Been Helped by HADACOL whose systems lacked vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron, and Niacin. The HADACOL formula is so effective for stomach distress, certain nervous disorders, insomnia due to upset stomach, nagging aches and pains, and a general run-down condition when these troubles are caused by such deficiencies.

Give HADACOL A Chance . . . to help you, as it has helped thousands of others if you suffer such deficiencies. Remember, there are no substitutes for HADACOL. Always insist on the genuine HADACOL. No risk involved. Buy a bottle of HADACOL either the trial size, $1.25, or the large family or hospital size, $3.50, and if HADACOL doesn't help you, you get your money back.

If your druggist does not have HADACOL, order direct from The LeLanc Corporation, Lafayette, Louisiana. Send no money. Just your name and address on a penny post card. Pay postman. State whether you want the $3.50 hospital economy size or $1.25 trial size. Remember, money cheerfully refunded unless you are 100% satisfied.—Adv.

CLEM WHITAKER, Jr.

In the last thirty days, just about every two-bit bureaucrat in the land has been so smitten with the importance and weight of his position, as to find it necessary to warn Mr. and Mrs. John Smith, Americans, that they're going to have to tighten their belts—tough times are upon us.

These pontifical official statements tell the Nation that goods are scarcer and getting scarcer—inflation is the ogre and wage control, price control, rationing and higher taxes are the order of the day.

In other words forget about the luxuries, folks. Prepare to cut out the niceties of life. We have a war to win.

More to the point the outbreak of the little "police action" in Korea left most Americans with the same empty paralyzed feeling in the pit of the stomach as would a sledgehammer blow. Mr. and Mrs. John Smith knew when the first shot was fired that they were in a tight spot—that the big war could be just around the corner.

All but a handful of our 150 million people who are sending their loved ones off to fight a war, are ready and willing to cut out the new electrical appliances, shining cars and thousand and one things of a peaceful world they long for.

Higher taxes? Americans will pay them, cheerfully, to protect their Nation. Controls and rationing? If that means help the war effort, the people will muddle and gripe through that, too, always glad to do what they can.

It is just too bad that the government gives no sign of recognizing the situation as do the people—and being as fully prepared to tighten its belt and cut out the frills and fadals.

At the last reading the Federal Government was going on its merry way without thought to cutting non-essential, non-defense spending.

While the people are being told to cut down and cut down, the Federal Government is going blithely along earmarking huge outlays for all sorts of health, welfare, education and other non-essential projects.

For example, while hastening to point out that its $375,000,000 budget for the year is $65,000,000 less than it would like, the Bureau of Reclamation announces that this year it will construct 1348 miles of power transmission lines, 205 miles of canals and 451 miles of lateral and pipe distribution systems. Here in California the Bureau builds its power transmission lines parallel to existing lines of private power companies—a very necessary outlay!

No, Mr. and Mrs. John Smith, Americans, don't have to be told to tighten their belts—they're set to do it. But it would be a good idea if the Federal Government faced reality and slashed its non-essential spending to the bone so that Mr. and Mrs. John Smith don't have to carry that burden while paying for a war, too.

JAMES DORAIS

Your Uncle Sam is a very gregarious figure.

An inveterate joiner, he belongs to no less than 45 international "clubs", ranging from the International Tin Study Group to the United Nations Education, Scientific and Cultural Organization.

Last year, the cost of American "dues" paid to these organizations and the cost of attending meetings all around the globe amounted to nearly 145 million dollars. The U. S. share of the annual budgets of the international groups amounted to as much as 72 per cent in one instance and averaged more than 47 per cent for all of them.

The aim of all these committees and organizations is international cooperation on a myriad of subjects. One subject which has received a great deal of attention of late is genocide—a word not to be found except in the most recent editions of dictionaries, meaning the mass liquidation of groups.

The United Nations has drawn up a "Convention Against Genocide" in the form of a treaty, which has been proposed for ratification by the U. S. Senate.

Doubtless the Senate will approve, for it would be difficult to find anyone who would hesitate to go on record condemning the practice of mass murder.

At the same time, it is difficult to determine what ratification of such a treaty would accomplish. As originally drawn in the United Nations, the Convention would have forbidden extermination or persecution of "political, national, ethnic, racial, or religious" groups. But at the instigation of Soviet Russia, the Convention was redrawn to eliminate the word "political".

And as genocide is practiced today only in Russia, and only against political groups, its "outlawing" as proposed by the United Nations would be without effect.

Some opposition has developed to U. S. adoption of the Convention on the grounds that it would establish dangerous precedent for enforcement of international regulations through the treaty technique, which necessitates approval by only one House of Congress.

California will recognize the validity of that contention by recalling that this States Alien Land Law has been seriously challenged on the ground that it is in conflict with the United Nations charter, which, as a national treaty, supersedes State law.

There are some who argue that repeal of the Alien Land Law is a desirable thing. But whether the law is good or bad seems beside the point. It is California law, and if it is invalidated, it will not be at the behest of the majority of Californians, but of the member countries of an international body.

Opponents of the World Government idea point out that Americans are a minority of 6 per cent of the world population. It is very doubtful if most Americans are ready to entrust their destinies to the decisions of the huge non-American world majority. Yet the international club which Uncle Sam so generously supports are working to achieve that end in easy and separate stages.

Abalone is a California Dish

Only a few people in the world can enjoy abalone, and Californians are among them. The abalone is a true California product and California law says abalone cannot be shipped from the state, nor be canned or dried commercially. It is found along the California coast in colors ranging from red and pink, to green and black. It is only the red abalone, however, that is of commercial importance.

Many women hesitate to cook abalone because they believe the meat is tough. Home Advisor Delphine Wilson, of the University of California Agricultural Extension Service, recommends two cooking methods, pan frying or deep-fat frying, both of which should give results.

In many fish markets the abalone is put through a tenderizing machine. Do not pound these steaks again. However, if you or your friends have gathered the abalone, pound them thoroughly before cooking. Dip the steaks in egg batter, then in cracker meal or bread crumbs. Fry the steaks 30 or 40 seconds in deep fat, or 20 seconds on each side in the frying pan. The important point to remember is not to fry them too long. That is what makes them tough.

After cooking, salt and pepper to suit taste and serve immediately on a warm plate. Do not let the steaks stand in a warm closet as this will also cause them to become tough.

Never cook abalone in butter, Mrs. Wilson warns. The butter will burn before it reaches the proper temperature for cooking the steaks.

morning, January 2, following the Christmas holidays.

Lemon Grove Christmas Concert

The music department of the school presented its annual Christmas Concert, under the direction of Paul Cheatham, Wednesday evening. Students from the orchestra, band, and glee club participated in the musical program.

Orchestra selections opening the evening concert included a selection from "Hansel and Gretel", "Angels from the realms of Glory", "While Shepherds Watched" and God Rest You, Merry Gentlemen. Al Webster played "O Holy Night", a trumpet solo, accompanied by Kathy Lou Pendergrass, and was followed by four selections by the clarinet quartet, which included Leah Cox, Marilyn Bunch, Jack Pinkerton and Tommy Simmons.

Two old Christmas songs, by the violin quartet, were played by Lillian Good, Kathy Lou Pendergrass, Janice Yeagren and Harvey Good. Miss Pendergrass also played "Ave Maria", accompanied by Sue Ann Martin.

The brass sextet, Barbara Ropp, Georgina Grove, Edward Mouillesseaux, Albert Webster, John Bates, and Loren Mathews, played "Hark the Herald Angels Sing", "Jolly Old St. Nicholas", and "Joy to the World."

Following a brief intermission, the Nativity Scene was presented on the stage. The cast included Loretta Bell, Arvis Reed, James Balch, Travis Keeton, Gary Trushinsky, Ronnie Clark, Joel Gleghorn, Leonard Graham, Monty Dickenson and Roger Courtney.

Music for the dramatic scene was sung by members of the girls glee club of junior high. The program included "The First Noel", "Silent Night", "Luther's Cradle Hymn", "My Sheep Were Grazing", "Come, All Ye Shepherds", and "We Three Kings".

Committees assisting in this school production were: tickets, Mrs. Louise McNamara, Mrs. Emily Hogan, and Mrs. Theresa Haradon; room mothers, Mrs. Wesley Ropp, Mrs. William Cabral, Mrs. Charles F. Baxter; directors, Paul Cheatham, music; Miss Elizabeth Robbins, scenery and costumes; decorations, P. T. A. of Lemon Grove School.

Elementary Student Council Meets

Last week the student council members from the elementary school at Lemon Grove met with Mr. Grossman, faculty sponsor. President Willard Ridgely conducted the meeting. As part of the council's program for cafeteria improvement, announcements were made concerning new posters displayed in the lunchroom. It is hoped that these will create further student interest in the "best table" contest being conducted. Parties for the winners will be held the last week in January.

Discussion was held on the possibilities of marble and jacks contests in the school, the staging of a puppet show, and the need for radios in some classrooms.

Sweet Sale is Successful

The 7-2 class of the junior high, Mrs. Whalen's homeroom group, held a sale of homebaked goods during the noon period at the junior high last Thursday. Tommy Halvorsen, class treasurer, reported that the funds would be used for the Christmas party this week. Committee members who assisted at the sale included Dorothy Jiron, Deana Smith, Jack Sanders, Jackie Laisrey, Carolyn Smith, Larry Wesfall, James Boucher, Monty Dickenson, and Sharon Fisher.

Monterey Heights School

Third graders morning class, from the Monterey Heights School were treated to a visit and an excursion trip around San Diego Harbor last Tuesday. The afternoon class made a similar trip on Friday afternoon. The trip was the culmination of a class social studies unit, a study of boats and the important role of our local harbor.

The groups enjoyed seeing the bell buoys and other navigation aids, the Pacific Ocean entrance to the harbor, Ballast Point, the Valley Forge, a coast guard cutter on patrol, and an enjoyable ride on the Coronado Ferryboat.

Mothers assisting Mrs. Lois Richie's class were Mmes. Clarence Yockey, Leonard Cafferata, Charles Tolbert, and Carl Hines. They, with Mrs. Richie, also furnished the transportation.

Mrs. Kennedy's p. m. class was accompanied by Mmes. J. T. Mitchell, Espen Waymire, James Killorn, and J. Haasmussen.

Safety Patrol To See Movies

Christmas Party in Sixth Grade

The sixth graders of Mr. Purves' class will give a Christmas program to parents and other visitors on Friday at 1:30 p. m., in Room 2 at the Lemon Grove School. Dennis Tristram is chairman for the afternoon. Everyone at Grossmont is being asked to participate in the drive with the idea that he will have a merrier Christmas by helping someone else.

Every year just before Christmas the library staff packs a carton of pocket books to send to a Veterans' Hospital. The students and faculty contribute the books. They will be wrapped in Christmas paper and delivered before vacation.

The Charity drive problem that has confronted the Associated Student Body, has finally come to a close.

It was agreed by the entire A. S. B. that only five charity drives be held during the school year of 1950-51.

Joan Taylor, Chairman of the Drive Committee, gave a report in the December Student Council meeting, and named the drives selected by the Associated Student Body. The drives chosen were the March of Dimes, Red Cross, Cancer, Foster Parents, and the Christmas Giving Fund.

Forward Club

The Choral Group of the Forward Club will make its first appearance at the Special Christmas Meeting on December 22, at 2 p. m. Mrs. R. B. Kalanquin, music chairman, will direct in the singing of carols, and Mrs. Laurence E. Leech will accompany. Audience participation will follow. Members are invited to come with a gift of jam or jelly for the Big Sister league. Christmas greenery will be on sale.

Mrs. H. Irving Vernier, president, will welcome two new members: Mrs. Ernest Miller and Mrs. A. H. Wetter. Tea hostesses will be Mrs. J. F. Gillespie, Mrs. S. Sanchez and Mrs. James Grossmeyer.

There was an air of gaiety at the Forward Club house Friday afternoon when 70 members and guests met for the regular meeting. One feature that made the afternoon a special occasion was a showing of 12 paintings by a local artist, Stephen Westover. The pictures were hung on the walls of the auditorium and on easels on the stage. Mr. Westover's pictures are truly beautiful and it was a privilege for the club to see them.

Mrs. Edward Laws, of El Cajon, gave a group of delightful musical monologues appropriate to Christmas. She accompanied herself on the piano. The rest of the afternoon was spent in viewing the antiques which Mrs. Braley, the art chairman, had arranged for the members to bring.

There was a very successful sell-out food sale conducted by Mrs. L. D. Newton, Mrs. A. P. Schnell and Mrs. Edward Snare, to raise funds for the club's contribution to the community Christmas party.

The Christmas Bazaar table,

arranged by the ways and means committee, with Mrs. A. J. Henry chairman, added funds to the treasury.

The lovely tea table was planned with a Christmas motif, and the hostesses served delicious refreshments. Mrs. John Newton was hostess chairman, she was assisted by Mrs. Herbert Latter and Mrs. George Neitman. The decorations in the clubhouse were done by Mrs. Frank Barber, Mrs. L. D. Newton and Mrs. O. Patterson. A special arrangement of sprigged blossoms decorated the president's table.

Square dancing lessons are open to junior and senior Forward Club members and their guests in the clubhouse at 7:30 p. m. on the second and fourth Thursdays.

The evening section will have its next meeting on January 9 when they will be guests in the home of the president, Mrs. H. Irving Vernier.

Square dancing lessons are open to junior and senior Forward Club members and their guests in the clubhouse at 7:30 p. m. on the second and fourth Thursdays.

Monday will be the final dress rehearsal for the church school Christmas pageant which is to be presented at 7:00 p. m. on Wednesday, in Vista La Mesa Christian Church. The cast for the pageant, "There's A Song in the Air", includes children from the Nursery through the Junior High Department. The Children's Choir of about 35 voices and the Youth Choir will be directed by Richard Hendee with Mrs. Russell Hendee at the organ. As the Christmas story unfolds in Scripture and song adult solo voices to be heard are Ray Wellington, Joy Hanson, and Gregory Boddy. Bob McGregor, Carol Hasek, and Ronald Hendee have the lead parts in the Youth Choir, with Peggy Wheeler serving as the reader. White wrapped gifts for the California Christian Home will be dedicated during the service. The public is invited to share this lovely candlelight pageant.

CHOCOLATE ALMOND LAYER CAKE

Only Pure Vegetable SNOWDRIFT Gives You this Luscious Quick-Method Cake!

True! Only emulsified shortening blends your cake ingredients all in 1 bowl... quickly, completely. And Snowdrift is emulsified! It makes extra-tender, stay-moist-longer cake this new quick-method way. For luscious flavor be sure you use delicate Snowdrift—be SNOWDRIFT-SURE.

Mix enough to dampen flour. Beat 2 minutes. If by hand, count beating time only. With electric mixer use "low speed." Scrape bowl often; scrape beaters after 2 minutes.

Add:

- 2 egg whites, unbeaten
- 1/4 cup milk
- 1 teaspoon almond extract

Beat 1 minute. Bake in 2 greased 8-inch layer pans, lined with plain paper in moderate oven (350° F.) about 30 minutes. Cool. Frost with ALMOND COCOA ICING: Cream 3 tbsp. Snowdrift with 2 tbsp. butter. Add 1/2 cup sifted cocoa, 3 cups sifted confectioners' sugar, and 1/2 tsp. salt alternately with 1/2 cup milk. When smooth, add 1 teaspoon almond extract. Frost cake. Dip tips of blanched almonds in icing; press upright around bottom of cake.
